

Rainy weekend plans with family

Take out the board game

The oldest indoor activity, board games make for a good screen-free fun time. They're also the best for building some competitive team spirit.

Binge watch some classics

Nothing is better than a good old family movie-fest. Get some popcorn, make chai and watch a movie together.

Create upcycled art

Get out the old tin cans, glass jars or discarded clothes to create pieces of art together. From wall décor to coasters and cute planters, there are a ton of things you can do together.

Read a book together

Pick a book that everyone will enjoy and take turns reading it aloud. Put out the blanket, get some snacks and start your story-reading session.

Camp indoor

Make tents with bedspreads, throw in some cushions and cosy blankets and camp indoors. Get some snacks and spend time together playing games and enjoy a picnic lunch.

Cook a new recipe

Find a new recipe that will be fun to cook together. Make sure everyone joins in and you could even turn it into a competition.

Make a scrapbook

Get some papers, colours, ribbons, and photos to start putting together a family album. Add some fun snippets and anecdotes to each photo to recreate the happy times.

Play act

Enact a short skit together or put out a puppet show, and make sure everyone takes part. Get creative with the costumes and don't forget to record the final production.

Get moving

From pillow fights, scavenger hunts to a dance party, pick an activity everyone will enjoy and get everyone moving.

Help your employees enhance their family time with Wellbeing on the Web

Counsellors

Doctors

Nutritionists

Diagnostics

Pharmacy

Finance advisor

Newsletters

Self-assessments

Live classes

Articles

Videos

Webinars