

What is a Will?

A will, officially known as a last will or testament is a legal document that states how you would like your assets distributed after you are gone.

It's the key to ensuring your wishes are respected and your loved ones are provided for.

How to make a will?

Wills can be created with a lawyer, notary or by using online platforms.

Just list your assets, choose beneficiaries, appoint an executor and sign! Make sure it's witnessed for validity.

Why have a will?

Having a will is about protecting your loved ones, avoiding legal disputes and securing your legacy.

It's also a thoughtful way to reduce the stress your family may face in your absence.

Limitations to consider

A will can't address everything.

For example, it won't cover retirement accounts or jointly owned property.

It's essential to understand what a will can and can't do.
